WHAT WE REALLY PERCEIVE IRISH POLITICS TO BE

PURE AND UTTER SHITTE

Dear Readers,

Before we unveil issue number 3 we would like to give you these three cast golden promises: 1. We never tell lies - unless of course it's absolutely necessary to cover up some of our other lies. 2. We will never use statistics to confuse you. Over 89% of newspapers do that and of the 33% that don't at least half, a total of 72%, are more likely to, than the other four fifths. And finally, but crucially (4.) the most important of our 3 promises. We will never sell our newspaper to Denis O'Brien - We are off to the bank later to collect the €1,99 that Donald Trump offered us yesterday evening. He said our journalistic standards were every inch as good as O'Brien's three inches. We are Ireland's No.1 media outlet and rightly so - when it comes to presenting serious news. We may be a bit rough around the edges but we would never take advantage of, nor laugh at other peoples misfortunes. We care not for political correctness. We prefer common sense, true human kindness and good manners. So we hope you motherfuckers enjoy this year's Xmas edition which is a free copy for all you tight arses out there who kept asking how much is it going to costs. Last but not least, you are probably wondering why this issue only has 24 pages. Our journalists - Skelton, Brady, Delaney and myself suffer from Lazy Bastard Syndrome. Condemned to a life on benefits and can't afford the other 24 pages we gave you last year. So without further ado let us now deviate from the circular path in which Gobshite Irish Society currently finds itself and locate the axis elsewhere....

Former Miss Dublin, Frederike Byrne has been convicted for calling President Higgins a "Midget Parasite"- yonks ago. Miss Byrne was handed a 14-month suspended sentence, a cheque for € 50,000 and the keys to the city for her services to state and country.

We bumped into an unhappy Paul Murphy back in April this year as he collected his legal aid for an upcoming court case... A bite to eat and drinks in Buswells Hotel are probably out of the question Paul - never mind a haircut.

Lucinda Creighton at a packed meeting in Portlaoise on May 14, 2016 where she announced her resignation as leader of Renua Fine Gael. At the same time Joan Burton used the meeting room next door to announce her resignation as leader of the Labour Party.

Dublin Fire Brigade Seriously Hit As Water Charge Suspension Takes Effect

SHOCKING NEWS: According to a reliable source, FG & FF have agreed to reduce Dublin Fire Brigade's water usage to a bottle per day. The "One Fire - One Liter of Water Bill" was rushed through in May this year due to the suspension of water charges and the loss of revenue caused by this, said Alan Kelly - Acting The Bollox for the Environment and now Minister for Fuckall.

Ffs Enda have a shave!

Under the new "One Fire - One Liter of Water Bill", the Public Order Unit will take care of minor fires such as these - assisted hopefully by some vigilant members of the public and with a bit of luck - a dog or two.

These three Dublin terrorists who blew up a passing-by Irish Water van are to appear in court next January on charges of disturbing the peace after they celebrated with residents into the early hours of the morning with loud disco music.

Gardai were getting heavy handed again in Co. Wicklow FOR ABSOLUTELY NO REASON!

Armed protesters to take to the streets in 2017

Despite rumours that water meter protests around the country have declined, a new recruitment programme has been successfully launched in the capital, to arouse the interest and curiosity of ..".feckin everyone" said mastermind Derek Byrne from Donaghmede. All future protests against Irish Water and Affiliates as from 2017 will be heavily armed and more efficiently organised said the baldy headed five foot nothing recruiter in Dublin City recently. Baldy-headed or not, a very intriguing and extremely intelligent plan has been put into action by the Dublin protest strategist. Protesters will now be legally armed with "super soaker"s and out to have a little fun with water meters installers, hitting them with their own weapon. Young men and women from all over the country are reported to be flocking to the capital to sign up for a chance of - literally wetting themselves, and others, in a series of new offensives which will be code-named "The 2017 Water Uprising". The brightly coloured weapons are believed to have been smuggled into the country during the beginning of the winter months this year, in anticipation of good weather this coming summer and are suitable for all ages.

Notice to Gardaí who are called out on their day off, to deal with water meter protesters - Don't throw on your garda attire in a hurry!

RteNoNews - The Headlines 2016

We caught up with Taoiseach Enda Kenny on his campaign trail in February. Mr. Kenny insisted he was getting a "great response" at the doors!

Mary Mitchell O'Connor, the new minister for jobs and enterprise, started her new role very positively. Mrs Mitchell O'Connor announced that up to 200 new positions, will be created in social welfare offices this year, due to sustained growth in the sector! - facebook.com/RteNoNews

Gerry Adams and Mary Lou McDonald (Sinn Féin), today unveiled a Plaque commemorating 500 consecutive days of fuck-ups by Irish Water!

Hold your right hand up a bit higher Enda you're doing a great job!

A man was "spared" a jail sentence for calling President Micheal D Higgins a "midget parasite", after the prosecution failed to find sufficient evidence to prove otherwise!

The 800 new Gardai announced in the recent Budget17, are to be initially "loaned out" to Irishwater to help the company in its debt collection of unpaid bills!

The Ferguson Police Force are to send a delegation to Ireland for training with An Garda Siochana.

Bono has said he will not pay any tax in Ireland this year, in solidarity with Apple, after their mistreatment by the EU!

Apple say they will change their name to "Denis O'Brien" to avoid any future "taxation problems" in Ireland!

The Paul Pogba to Manchester United saga is at last coming to an end, after an agreement was reached that will see the club pay Pogba's wage through an Irish bank for tax purposes!

12 hour traffic jams were reported in Malta, as the yearly influx of Irish politicians made their way to Denis O'Brien's Maltese residence for their summer recess!

An Garda Siochana have thanked the public for their support, and for the warm reception they received, during their protest march to the Dail. - For more hot news go to facebook.com/RteNoNews mediately fell in love". "I instantly thought to myself - "I know exactly where I could swing that". It never occurred to us until later, when we put two and two together; that she was not referring to the ladies four-ball the following Tuesday evening. September is a long way away we hinted to Audrey as she was disembarking at Raheny Station. "Ah, not to worry" she said. "I'll be out for a few practice swings in August if anyone attempts to install water meters in my area! Unfortunately we later heard that Audrey couldn't make it to the Dáil that day and she no longer plays golf. Apparently she is now giving guitar lessons for protesters.

Audrey Clancy, mother and well-known activist from Edenmore was spotted on the dart on her way home from a shopping spree in the Big Smoke late last August. She agreed to do a quick interview and told us how she was looking forward to being a part of the welcoming committee which would greet government ministers on returning to the Dail after their summer recess in September. Audrey, an enthusiastic golfer, with a three-digit handicap explained she had originally planned to buy herself a new 7 iron in town, to replace the one that got stolen from her at Deer Park by some skyving little bastard - but Arnott's information desk gave her wrong directions and she ended up in the hardware department. "I took one look at this elegantly crafted instrument" she told our reporter "and we im-
